Target age group – 16+ Literary readers

A Sun-soaked Setting With A Difference

Synopsis

When Hyienna, a down-on-his-luck drifter, gets involved in complex relationships and a mysterious rucksack, he finds himself at the centre of a sinister age-long conspiracy that threatens everything.

A note from the author

In my day job, I am a full-time secondary school teacher of Media Studies and Computing. I decided to write my own 'great American novel' way back in 2002 whilst still in University. I wanted to finish the book to mark my milestone birthday in 2021. The Nephilem and the series of books it will belong to is about missing children and an adoption conspiracy. I chose to write about missing children because my and my sister's own experiences. So many grow up with harbouring lost identity, I wanted to write my own stories to show they are not alone.

The Nephilem is part of a series and I am writing Rapha's Spiral at the moment. My book has a strong thread in uniting art to its narrative as an illustrative novel for adults and this house style will continue in future instalments. The Nephilem is self-published by the author's own imprint. Distributed by IngramSpark who partner with Gardeners in the UK.

Key features

-  First story by new author.
-  Every chapter opens with a unique illustration. The paperback has black & white illustrations while the hardback has a new set in full colour.
-  Conveys the biblical characters of nephilem in an urban contemporary setting, without leaning on usual fantasy tropes and imagery. A total reworking.
